Statemess, Eidney Diseases, Nervousness, sembling, Wasting of the body, all diseases cansfrom Indiscretion in Youth or Married Life, sevous Prostration, Fersonal Weakness or Exsustion, Female Complaints, in fact all nervous seases perisaling to Male or Female.

We challenge the world to produce a belt that ill compare with it. The current is under conol of the wearer and can be made mild or strong suit any complaint; this cannot be done with y other beit. The suspensory for weakness of en is connected directly to the Battery, the disks es os adjusted that by means of our Appliances is Electricity can be carried to any part of the day or wherever the disease is located. This is is latest and greatest improvement ever made applying Electricity to the body for the cure of sease or as a remedial agent. This Electro-Galanic Body Belt has just been patented August, 16, 67, and is superior to all others. Every buyer the belt wants the best, and this he will find is Oven Belt to be. It differs from all others, it a Battery Belt containing 10 Galvanic cells with

A CHILD'S LIFE SAVED.

When six months old the left hand of our little grandchild began to swell and had every appearance of a large boil. We poulticed it, but all to no purpose About five months after, it became a running on each hand, and as his blood became more and more impure it took less time for them to break out. A sore came ou the chin, beneath the under lip, which was very offensive. His head was one solid scab, discharging a great deal. This was his condition at twenty-two months old, when I undertook the care of him, his mother having died when he was a little more than a year old, of consumption (scrofula of course). He could walk a little, but could not get up if he fell down, and could not move when in bed, having no use of his hands. I immediately commenced with the CUTICURA REMEDIES, using the CUTICURA and CUTICURA SOAP freely, and when he had taken one bottle of the CUTICURA RESOLVENT, his head was completely cured, and he was improved in every way, We were very much encouraged, and continued the use of the Remedies for a year and a half. One sore after another healed, a bony matter forming in each one of these five deep ones just before healing, which would finally grow loose and were taken out then they would heal rapidly. One of these ugly bone formations I preserved. After taking a dozen and a half bottles he was completely cured, and is now, a to use them. All that physicians did for him did him no good. All who saw the child before using the CUTICURA REMEDIES and see the child now consider it a wonderful cure. If the above facts are of any use to you, you are at liberty to use them.

The Prince turned toward the Morell Mackenzie went to San Remo at the sea of faces and looked intently at the people. end of January, a fixed weekly sum has been His moody, surly eyes flew rapidly from face paid him. to face. Then he slowly touched his cap. Cheer after cheer rose wildly in quick succession and with passionate fervor. The Prince listened with a rapt look, then threw back his head with a sudden motion and showed his teeth in a smile of savage exultation. The action was ALMOST THEATRICAL.

The people fought to get another look at him and he was whirled away amid the hoarse and frantic shouts of his worshipers. The flerce light that beats about the German throne leaves the dumb and sickly monarch in the shadow, plodding slowly on toward the nearing and inevitable end, while it throws the stalwart, warlike and aggressive figure of Crown Prince William out with vivid distinctness. The name of the coming Emperor is heard in the councils of all the sovereigns and diplomats of Europe. Not since the first Napoleon has a young man wielded such tremendous power as will fail to the lot of this headstrong, violent and revengeful Prince. He will have 2,000,000 men and 2,000,000 muskets at his back. He hates the English and he hates the Jews. So do the German people. They detest their present English Empress because she makes her children talk English and has prevailed upon the Emperor to have an English physician.
THE FUTURE EMPEROR'S CHARACTER.

They have tried to mob Mackenzie and they look coldly at Frederick III. because he spends the last hours of his waning life ennobing men of Semitle blood. They adore the very name of the coming ruler, who has all their aversion to the English extends to his own by the late Emperor to visit his invalid father the royal party started to walk to church, and Prince William's English mother, the present Empress, attempted to take his arm. He shook her off roughly in the presence of the

"I represent the person of the Emperor," he said haughtily. "I walk alone."

His mother was obliged to follow in his footsteps. His first English governess, Miss Shipps, who had charge of him as a boy, when asked recently what sort of a man he was, said: "He is a man whom nothing can ever stay, once his anger is aroused." Von Moitke, the 88-year-old Field Marshal, bas a shrewd, brilliant and ambitious assistant, Count Waldersee, a hater of the English, who is only 40 years old, but a tactician, strategist and general in whom the warm friends. When they are together the ministers whisper that mischief is brewing. When one is Emperor he will make the other Field Marshal. Both are schemers and their power will be tremendous. Hence rulers with weary eyes, and when William II ascends the throne the map-makers may get ready and sharpen their tools, for they will have work to do.

A cartoon issued by the newspaper called the Flok yesterday excited much comment. It represents the Crown Prince trying to climb on the throne, sword in hand, the army be hind him. The invalid Emperor stands on the throne, pushing his son back, remarking, "Not yet." The people are hissing this on the streets and showing their sympathy with the Crown Prince.

unbecoming asperi-ty. Prince William has taken many opportunities of expressing his dislike and tempt for his mother's English relatives. Empress Augusta is in a precarious state of health and although she may live for some time yet her death may now take place at any hour. She is in full possession of all her faculties, but her bodily weakness is extreme. Emperor Frederick is convinced that he has fused to go to Wiesbaden or leave Charlot-week, but what change cannot speak at all, and takes only jellies and Sir Morell Mackenzie, and I believe that he has several times expressed to royal visitors his boundless gratitude towards the English phyin prolonging his life till the present time.

DR. MACKENZIR'S FEBS. A great deal of nonsense has been published about the fees which Mackenzie has received for his attendance on Emperor Frederick, and it has been stated that hitherto the amo have not been so large as they might have been in consequence of the comparative se-curity of the patient during his father's lifetime. As a matter of fact, the whole ex-penses of every kind in connection with the present Emperor's illness were defrayed by Emperor William down to his death, and he Prince who will soon be Emperor of the nation of warriors. of the best red wines of Europe and Florence is a capital place to procure it. The Queen is to return to Windsor Castle from Italy on the evening of Wednesday, April 18. Lady Churchill will be lady in waiting the four weeks of Her Majesty's absence abroad.

The Queen appears to have been anxious to cause as much personal and official inc venience and expense as possible, when she fixed her drawing-room for Saturday next, directly after the postponement of the directly after the postponement of the drawing-room announced for the 9th. It was settled that it should be held by the Princess of Wales shortly after the expiration of court mourning, but on Tuesday the Queen thought proper to alter this plan and a black drawing-room was forthwith commanded for Saturday, a freak which I must say displayed most wanton disregard for the natural wishes of all concerned. At the same time, a levee is ordered for to-day, an arrangement by no means agreeable to the Prince of Wales, who has been compe rush back from Berlin in order to hold is, whereas he had intended to remain on the

RITCHIE'S LOCAL GOVERNMENT BILL

the local government bill, as explained by Ritchie, are studied the more satisfactory is appears to the Liberals. Probably not a sinure. At the same time the Liberals naturally are a little snapicious of the Government's intentions, and think it old that a Government elected as a protest against the decentralizing measure of Gladstone, as regards Ireland, should themselves introduce the most thorough measure of decentralization ever submitted to Parliament. Gladstone frankly expresses his approval, and admits that he is astounded that the Tory Government should introduce such a scheme. In the course of a conversation in the lobby yesterday he said: "They would never have allowed us to propose such a bill."

to allow discussion of Parnell's fill providing sition of the arrears of rent in Ireland. The subject of arrears in Ireland is little understood, even in England. They mostly represent the accumulations of odd sums which the tenant finds it imssible to pay, owing to the de-ession of agriculture. Thus, a tenant owing two years' rent often really owes eight, the odd quarters extending perhaps over twenty years. In England there is no such difficulty, because the landlords, in bad times, make remissions. In Ireland remissions are very rare. Parnell's motion will be met by an amendment, nominally by Powell Williams, an amendment, nominally by Powell williams, but really drawn by Chamberlain, declaring that no measure respecting the debts of land-lords can be satisfactory unless it deals also with the debts of other creditors. The Irish Liberal Unionists will support Parnell and perhaps two or three English Unionists, but the bill is certain to be rejected.

CHAMBERLAIN AND O'BRIEN. Chamberiain having denied O'Brien's alle-gations that he was once in favor of home All day the storm was so blinding as to almost rule. O'Brien says Chamberlain's reply eludes his specific statements, and in doing so entirely confirms them. O'Brien now declares that he has obtained Chamberlain's let-ter which Chamberlain wrote in 1885. In this, which O'Brien quotes textually, Chamberlain declares that Ireland has a right to a local government, with a more complete and popular representation than anything yet suggested, and says he would not hesitate to transfer the education and land questions to such a body. Chamberlain adds no conditions, although in Gladstone's bill both questions were carefully safeguarded. Supposing the letter to be genuine, Chamberlain will find it difficult to answer his antago nist or justify such a complete, unequivoca change of views in so brief a space of time. In recognition of his services as Fishery Commissioner, he will soon be entertained at din ner by the Devonshire Club men. All parties are to be present, and as a proof of this I may n that Granville will preside.

Winslow, Ariz., March 21 .- With a high wind from the southwest, snow began falling during the night and is the deepest of the year. The wind blew a hurricane for several hours. Sheep in the range are scattered and it is feared the loss will be great.

RACINE, Wis., March 21 .- The warm weather of the past week and the heavy rain of yester-day broke the immense volume of ice in the river above the Northwestern Railroad dridge, and in the afternoon it began to move down the river. When the immense blocks reached Mead street bridge the outlet was not suffiiently wide, and a gorge was formed about high. The cracking of the ice could be heard the for blocks, and hundreds of people vis-the lited the scene. The gorge having formed a perfect dam, the rap-idly running river was soon forced over the adjoining dock property, and in less than an hour the land contiguous to the river was submerged. At Herrick's flats the river overflowed its banks and soon covered the entire country south of the river up to Thir teenth street, a distance of hair a mile. The water was from three to five feet deep, and all houses were flooded. Families were obliged to move out in boats and the roads are absolutely impassable. Nearly all the boat-houses on the river with their contents have been destroyed, and abutments and dock property have been seriously damaged. Vessel property in the river is in danger, and large gangs of men are working to keep the craft to their moorings. The damage cannot be estimated as yet.

Serious Overflow Threatened.

SIOUX CITY, To., March 21 .- Much anxiety prospect of an overflow like that of 1881. The snowfall in the upper river country has been very great during the winter, and the warm weather is melting it rapidly. The ice in the channel at this point moved yesterday morning, covering the pier of the new bridge, from the caisson of which the workmen who are filling it with concrete had just emerged.

A gorge formed about five miles up the river and the water is reported to be rising there at the rate of six inches an hour. In front of this city, opposite Prospect Hill, another gorge extending part way across has formed, the ice being piled fully twenty feet high. Just below the city, near the mouth of the Floyd, another gorge has formed and the water has backed up on the lowlands, sweeping away McNamara's grading camp, where work was being done on the approach of the new bridge. Unless the lee gives way in a short time there is danger of a serious overflow.

POPLAR RIVER, Mont., March 21 .- The Missouri River broke yesterday. Ice dams formed, the river overflowed its banks, and the whole river bottom, which includes millions of acres of lands, is inundated for over a hundred miles. There will be a great loss of cattle. The bridges on the Manitoba Railroad are all right. Settlers living in the bottom land have gone to the hills. The water is the highest ever known in this vicinity.

Second street property-owners will be very much gratified to know that the premises y occupied by Bishop & Spears, on the east side of the street between Washington avenue and Vine, which were totally destroyed the peanut fire on 10th of last October, is to be rebuilt with a substantial fire-proof building at an est cost of $50,000. Mrs. Julia C. Maffitt and Chas Chouteau own the ground, fronting 47 fee by a depth of 123, and now have their plans ready to commence rebuilding a day or two. The design was prepared by Furlong & Brown. It provides for a building to cover the entire property. The structur adapted for heavy warehouse purposes, and with that object in view the side walls adapted for heavy warehouse purposes, and with that object in view the side walls will be 22 inches thick, tapering to 13 inches at the top, and the end walls 2 feet in thickness. Although tis to be practically one building, the arrangement is such that the premisea, may be used by two firms separately, or a single establishment can occupy the house as a whole. While not exactly fire proof it will be the next thing to it, as the structure is to be erected on the slow combustion theory of mill construction.

FOREST PARK IMPROVEMENT ASSOCIATION.

The Forest Park Improvement Association is making strenuous efforts to get their property ready for the spring market, so much so, in fact, that the contractors are working a large force of men Sundays. At a meeting of the Directors which was held at the St. Louis Club rooms last evening it was formally decided to christen the property, known as the Griswold track, "The Forest Park addition to the city of St. Louis." Of this magnificent site the 2,800 feet fronting Lindell avenue is to be known as Forest Park Tarrace, the first interior place to the north of that will be hereafter called West Moreland place, and the second to the north of that Portland place. In each of these places the lots are laid off with a frontage of from 50 to 100 feet by a depth of from 200 to 250. The sewer system is now complete and water mains have been laid, and soon as the frost is out of the ground gas pipes will be put down. All the grading is about finished, and the material now on the ground for finishing the drives with Telford pavements bordered with stone flagging for sidewalks. It has been agreed, as a precautionary measure, not to permit the construction of any residence on the terrace that will cost less than $10,000, and to make $8,000 minimum value of residences on the inner places.

They will renew the task in the morning.

THE RAILROADS

The Coal Price and Rate-Storing Conven vention Cars-General News.

The members of the Coal Exchange have a ast discovered that there is a out in the rates of freight on coal to St. Louis, and at the meeting of the Exchange yesterday afternoon resolution was adopted reducing the ice of coal 25 cents a ton or 1 cent a bushel to take effect to-day. It is customary for the coal men, for one reason or other, to make a reduction in the price of coal in the spring, but usually later than 4hls, and it is earlier this year on account of the break in rates.

THE COAL ROADS' CONFERENCE. could not be found no agreement could be reached, so the matter was laid over until some time when he can be induced to attend. An other road has been added to the list of rate cutters, the Wabash having fallen into line four roads which still maintain the old rate.

While under the influence of drink yesterday afternoon Patrick Joyce was quietly relieved of $146 in cash in the salcon of P. J. Eagan in the "Patch." Joyce had a considerable sam of money about his person and went to the above salcon to drink a portion of it up. While there he met several friends. among whom was John Brennan, alias "Rebei Jack." Joyce displayed a roli of bills to his friends, telling them to take whatever they wanted. The party drank to excess and not long after Joyce began to show signs that he was intoxicated. Brennan, s. it is alleged, watched his chances, and at a moment when he thought he was not being observed put his hand into Joyce's pocket and took the above named sum. He immediately left the salcon and went home. Some one saw Brennan take the money and immediately notified the Police. Sergt, George McNamee searched the Patch for Brennan, and was just about to give the search up when the man Brennan stumbled into the hands of the vigilant officer. He was taken to the police station, where, upon being searched, $22 in currency was found on his person. A search was made at his residence on Davis street which resulted with finding $116 in bills. Brennan endeavored to make the police believe that he was paid off and declared his inuocence of robbing Joyce. Both Joyce and Brennan were locked up, the former until he sobered up and the latter until he could be taken to the Four Courts. Joyce will prosecute Brennan.

DEAR SIRS—We represent the American Bell Telephone Company of Boston, Mass., assigness and exclusive owners of the following letters patent of the United States, issued to Alexander Graham Bell, to-wit: No. 174.465, for an improvement in telegrapy, dated March 7, 1876; also No. 186, 787, for fit improvement in electric telegraphy, January 30, 1877.

The validity of these letters patent, and the exclusive right of the American Bell Telephone Company and its licensees to make, vend-and use the said improvements, have been determined by the Circuit Courts of the United States in numerous contested cases after protracted litigation in nearly every part of the Union. These decisions have now been affirmed on appeal by the Supreme Court of the United States, in the cases known as the "Telephone Appeals," which were argued at great length more than twelve months since by the most eminent counsel, and which involved every question hitherto presented as to the validity of these patents. These questions are now finally determined in favor of our clients have learned that you have been, and are, infringing upon their rights under said letters patent; that is to say: By having erected, operated and used and still maintaining and using, without right or license from or under the American Bell Telephone Company, a private line between 72 Olive street and Sixteenth street and Clark avenue, and employing in the use of said telephone line the improvements covered by the letters patent above mentioned, or part thereof.

We are instructed by the American Bell Telephone Company to call your attention to this violation of their rights on your part, and respectfully request you immediately to desist from the same, and to account to and with them for the damages sustained by them in consequence thereof.

We are, however, further instructed to say that our clients have no desire to exact the penalties which the law imposes for such trespass, from any party who will make a reasonable settlement with them; and further, that upon receiving satisfactory assurances from you that no further infringement of their rights under said letters patent will be committed by you, or any person in your employment or control, and upon the further condition that within five days after receipt of this notice you shall surrender to their agent all bells heretofore used by you in connection with said infringement, they will consent to waive their claim for damages for the past use of the particular instruments so surrendered.

A failure on your part to give promptly such assurance as above mentioned, and within the time specified to surrender said instruments, will be understood and treated as a refusal on your part to recognize their rights under said letters patent, in which case it is their purpose to proceed against you to recover full damages for such infringement. Respectfully your obedient servants.

THE RECEIPT OF THESE LETTERS sent the subscribers scampering t t.e offices of the Beil Telephone Company, the offices of the attorneys or the offices of the Pan Telephone Company. The officers of the istter company were thrown into a fever of excitement, and a meeting of directors was called for a late hour this afternoon. James Richardson is the President of the local Pan Company on its records the Vice-President, said of the situation: "The Bell Company does not threaten our company with suit. I had a talk with their attorneys this morning, and such a thing was not suggested. I do not think they will interfere with our subscribers either, but do think that the matter will be amicably adjusted. You see the Supreme Court only decided that the Bell patent was superior to the Dolbear or pan device, but there were four dissenters to this opinion to five in its favor, and Justice Lamar did not sit in the case. Now such a deliverance may be entirely set aside at another hearing of the case, and Bell has another big battle to fight before his right to a monopoly of the telephone business is assured. Prof. Bell one day went into the Patent Office and filed his papers for a patent on a 'telegraph.' The next day Bell, whose attention had been called to the Gray papers, secured his papers and put in with a pen another line, 'and talking machine.' Gray now is endeavoring to establish his priority in the Patent Office, and when that fight there is over it will probably be carried into the Supreme Court. Until the end in that court the Bell Company cannot afford to adopt any tactics such as their circular letters of this morning."

"Will Mr. Richardson's place be filled to-day?"

"No, sir. No retreating in the face of the enemy."

The Pan exchange is used by very few subscribers, but the local company has placed a number of private instruments in different parts of the city. The Laclede Gas Company has a private line from its office under the Lindell Hotel to its works; the St. Louis Fuel, Gas & Power Company has a private line from its office under the Lindell Hotel to its works; Devoy & Feuerborn have a line from their office to the coal switch at Eighteenth and Clark avenue; the three restaurants run by the Spragues are connected by private lines; the Rapid Transit Messenger Company has a line from its office on Chestinut street to the Court-house; the Excelsior Laundry Company and Munger & Co have their down-town offices connected with their laundries, and the Parker & Russell Mining Company have a private lines. H. L. Rogers, G. M. W.:

I learn through the newspapers of this city that at the last general meeting of the Supreme body of the Ancient Order of United Workmen it was determined by vote not to comply with the laws of Missouri regulating life insurance on the assessment plan. Will you as the chief officer of the Order, at your earliest convenience do me the favor to state if such action was taken? and oblige yours truly,

ALFRED CARR,
Superintendent of Insurance. Superintendent of Insurance. St. Louis, Mo., March 5.

To this letter Mr. Rogers sent the following renly:

Alfred Carr. Esq., Superintendent of Insurance:
Referring to your letter of the 5th inst., I have to say that I prefer to wait until the proceedings of our Grand Lodge are printed before I answer you officially. This will be in a day or two, or by Monday at farthest. I will then answer immediately and furnish you with proceedings to show just what was done aspectfully, H. L. Rogers, G. M. W.

Respectfully, H. L. Rogers, G. M. W. March 8.

Mr. Carr waited for the reply of the Grand Master, but like the letter in the sonz, that reply never came and the Insurance Commissioner decided to wait no longer but took legal steps in the matter. On Monday he submitted an application to Circuit-Attorney Clover for quo warranto proceedings against the Grand Lodge. The paper was signed and is to be filed at once in the Circuit and then the officers of the Grand Lodge will be notified to appear in court and show cause why its charter-should not be forfeited for its refusal to comply with the law of Missouri on the subject. The case will be conducted by the attorneys for the Insurance Department.

Grand Master-Workman Rogers and Grand Recorder Richardson being out of the city at present, their views on the matter could not be obtained. Mr. H. L. Verdier, treasurer of the St. Louis office, was seen, however, and said that the case was a very simple one.

"We are not an insurance company at all," he said; "not even on the assessment plan. We do not benefit individuals. We simply take money from one man and give it to the widow of another. I suppose the order will be compelled to carry out the policy suggested by the Grand Lodge and fight the case out." Speaking of the matter to-day Mr. Carr said: "The A. O. U. W. is a strong and reliable organization, and there is no reason why it should not comply with the law. The American Legion of Honor and the Legion of Honor and, in fact, nearly all the better organizations of that class have compiled with the law and want to do it, as they consider it a protection for themselves and their mem. he law and want to do it, as they

THE REQUEST WAS REFUSED.

Mr. Root remarked that he might have some questions to ask at a later period.

"I object to any such proceeding on the part of the other side," said Mr. Choate.

"What do you mean by the other side?" asked ex. Judge Gilbert.

"Why, all of you conspirators."

Edward B. Hilton, for the proponents, said that for the past seven years he had lived in Paris, where he was at the head of the European house of Sylvester, Hilton & Co. He was one of the subscribing witnesses to the original will and the first codicil. His former partners, James Henry Work and Henry E. Davies, were the other witnesses. It was signed on July 5, 1887. Mrs. Stewart received them in the library. She had the will in her hand when the gentlemen stepped into the parlor, and Judge Davies asked her if it was her last will and testament. She said "yes," in a clear, distinct volce. Mrs. Stewart was not under any restraint when she signed the will.

"Was she of unsound mind!" asked Mr. Elihu Root, who conducted the examination for the respondents.

"On the contrary, she was a woman of wonderful mental force."

"Old she use glasses when she eigned the

"Did she ever use an ear trumpet?"

Did she understand all questions put to her?"

The will, Mr. Hilton said, had been prepare "Your affection for her was very great, wa affection for her was very great, was it not?" asked Choate.

"Yes, and I think hers was for me. And her affection for the family was just as hearty." Mr. Hilton said he was 38 years old, and was admitted to the bar at the age of 21. He had never written a will before writing Mrs. Stewnever writes a win betore with a same dosk with Mr. Stewart at the Chambers street store since he was 15 years old.

"No, sir."

"Who lived in the house I West Thirtyfourth street?"

"Dr. White."

"Was that one of the houses which your father left with Mrs. Stewart?" asked Mr.
Choate with a very peculiar emphasis on the word "left."

Mr. Conkling and Mr. Root put in an earnest objection almost simultaneously to the form of this question and Surrogate ruled it out. the form of this question.

"Well, then, was No. 1 one of the houses to which your father failed to obtain a deed from Mrs. Stewart?"
Objection sustained.

"Do you know of an unrecorded deed for that property, Mr. Hilton?" persisted Mr. Choate.

that property, Mr. Hilton?" persisted Mr. Choate.

"I do, but it was made to Chas. A. Clinch."
When the hearing was resumed after recess Mr. Choate fought for light on the une recorded Clinch deed. Witness said it had been drawn up by an engrossing clerk named Downing in the office of Davies, McNamara, Work & Hamton. Mr. Choate wanted to know as to Mrs. Stewart's habits—when she arose, where she spent the day and evening, who was generally received at her house, both in this city and in Saratoga, and of her travels abroad. Mr. Hilton gave a most minute account of her doings, and then Mr. Hilton's personal relations were touched on.

"Did Mrs. Stewart ever give you any money?"

"Did Mrs. Stewart ever give you any money?"

"No, sir."

The question had evidently angered Mr. Hilton, for his shiny, baid head and fat, goodnatured looking face became as red as fire.

"Didn't she pay some of your debts?"

"I never had any debts that she could have paid had I been willing," and the witness looked angrier than ever.

Mr. Choate then turned his attention to the European ramification of the firms of A. T. Stewart and Sylvester, Hilton & Co., and wanted to know if at the time of A. T. Stewart's death witness father owned any property.

Witness said that his father owned other property, but just how much he did not know. At the time of Mr. Stewart's death he did not know that any one took charge of Mrs. Stewart.

"Who took charge of her at the funeral of Mr. Stewart?"

"Yes, he was there most of the time."
The witness did not go to Mrs. Stewart's

"Yes sir."
"Were you paid for the service rendered by Judge Hilton or by Mrs. Stewart?"
There was a squabble over this question among the lawyers. An end was put to this by the Surrogate, and the witness was permitted to state that he did not know. The books of the arm would show.

"Don't you suppose you could produce the books to morrow if you tried?"

"I don't know."
"Their production is most important as according to your testimony they alone will

Mr. Hilton was, however, obdurate and would only promise to "see what he could do in the matter."

How much money and property in the matter."

How much money and property was transferred by the deed by which Mrs. Stewart turned the business of A. T. Stewart over to Judge Hilton, Mr. Hilton could not say. He reiterated a dozen times that he had "no idea." Nor did he know whether Mrs. Stewart had a bank account. It was after 4 o'clock by this time and Surrogate Ransom adjourned the hearing until this morning at 10 c'clock. Mr. Choate asked that some allowance be made for him in case he should be late, as he had to appear in the Tilden will case for a short time this morning.

Thieranf and his wife have separated, and there is a suit for divorce pending. He admitted in Court that he had seen a photograph of his wife's brother in the rogue's gallery, and that he had also told people that his lawyer had said that the whole family were paid. Judge Noonan told him that he should not have talked so about his wife and her family, and said that while her relatives were legally wrong the provocation was sufficient to make most any person adopt the same measures they had. He fined the defendants is each.

MUTUAL BENEFIT ASSOCIATION. Sort of Rural Combine to Arrange Trade

With Storekeepers. By Telegraph to the Post-Disparch. CENTRALIA. Ill., March 21 .- An organization known as the Farmers' Mutual Benefit Association is having a great boom in the countie what is known as the Grange. Its object is to make arrangements with storekeepers to sell goods to members at a profit of 10 per cent. Less than one month ago there was not a lodge in MarioniCounty and now there are at least fifteen, and lodges being organized nightly. Committees representing the various lodges are in the city to-day to settle upon the store they will trade with. Many of the storekeepers arow they will not meet their demands ers avow they will not meet their demands unless the lodges agree to guarantee them so much trade each day. Others have agreed to seil on the terms asked. By some it is thought to be a political scheme, as a candidate for the Legislature in this section is actively advocating it and hopes to ride into office on the boom and farmers' yote.

The Noted Desperado and Firebug er Trial at Friar's Point. Telegraph to the Post-Disparch.

HELENA, Ark., March 21 .- The trial of William Gray, the firebug, desperado and highway robber, is in progress at Friar's Point. Mr. John Green of this city, who was a victim of Gray's club, left this morning for Friar's Point to testify for the prosecution in the case against Gray for assault with attempt to kill. Gray is a dangerous man to be at large, but by the time the law gets through with him it is probable that he will get so many years in the penitentiary that he will not have any opportunity to terrorize any community for some time to come.

Judge Noonan's Docket.

Edward Boyd, a negro employed at Jefferson and Washington avenues, was examined before Judge Noonan to-day on a charge of educing Mattle Jeffery of No. 1806 North Twenty second street. He was held for the Grand-jury in $1,000 bonds.

Pat McCormack pleaded guilty to stealing a board valued at $1 from H. C. Ulrich & Co., and was sentenced to six months in the Work-house.

and was sentenced to six months in the work-house.

James Golden was sentenced to fifteen days in the Work-house for stealing a monkey-wrench valued at $1 from Charles Kratz.

Mary White received ten days in jail for stealing $3 from Molfie Clark.

An assault and battery case against James Wells was dismissed for want of prosecution. Simon Fox; the clothing house runner, who was fined $25 by Judge Cady for soliciting trade from in front of a rival establishment and took an appeal, pleaded guilty and was fined $25. At the request of the City Attorney the fine was stayed, Fox promising to do it no more.

The firm of I. B. HOT SHOT.

RABBI SALE PITCHES INTO DR. SONNE-SCHEIN.

He Charges Him With Writing Abusive Let-ters and Refers to Him as "That Fellow". -Dr. Sonneschein Indignantly Denie the Allegation-An Issue of Fact Between Two Prominent Divines-The True Inwardness of the Big Row in Hebrew Circles-Shaare Emeth's Pastor in the Mid-

Nothing for some time has interested the Hebrew people of the West so much as the threat of Share Emeth Congregation of this city to withdraw from the Hebrew Union. The Union is an organization of the Hebrew congregations of the United States for the purpose of maintaining a college for the education of the Jewish youth for the ministry. This college is located at Cincinnati. Here also located the American Israelite, a Hebrew paper. The editor of the paper, Rev. Dr. Isaac M. Wise, is also President of the college. It is this intimate connection between the paper and the college that has caused the flare-up in Certain correspondence having appeared in the Israelite from St. Louis, signed "Mysing severely on Shaare Emeth, that congregs ing severely on Shaare Emeth, that congregation became indignant and considered the advisability of withdrawing from the Union.

The OLD FEELING AROUSED.

The first anneuncement of Shaare Emeth's intentions appeared in the Post-Dis-PATCH, and was followed by a chorus of protests and lamentations from all over the country. Realizing the deep resiling that would be caused by its withdrawal, Shaare Emeth referred the entire matter to a special committee. There it would no doubt have been allowed to die but for another attack on the congregation. This latest attack appears in the last issue of the imerican Israelite, and has aroused the old bitterness, and friends of the Union, who recognize Shaare Emeth as the strongest supporter the institution has in this city, are very apprehensive of serious develop-city, are very apprehensive of serious developments.

THE CAUSE OF THE BITTERNESS.

The attack is made over the initials of Leo Wise, son of the editor, and is very bitter against the rabbi of the big temple at Seventeenth and Pine streets. It accuses Dr. Sale of naving anonymously assailed Dr. Wise in the Chicago Occident. Going further it charges that the St. Louis rabbi is opposed to the college and is trying to drag Shaare Emeth out of the Union. The language of this charge is as follows: "if Dr. Sale, a bitter and avowed enemy of the Hebrew Union College, has sufficient influence with his congregation to induce it to withdraw its support from that institution, the withdrawal will take place; if not on the pretext now advanced, some other will be found."

Speaking of the alleged influence brought to stitution, the withdrawal will take place; if not on the pretext now advanced, some other will be found."

Speaking of the alleged influence brought to bear on Shaare Emeth, the writer says: "This attempt to isduce Shaare Emeth to withdraw from the Union is only partly caused by the refusal of the editors of the American Israelite to blow Dr. Sale's horn. The origin of it all lies further back and is two-fold; the same gentlemen failed in their attempt to use Dr. Wise and the American Israelite to drive Dr. Sonneschein out of the Jewish pulpit; and second, because were frused to whip our correspondents into line to support the I. O. B. B. Constitution Grand Lodge in all of its doings."

The article exonerates Dr. Wise, the editor, from all blame regarding the publication of the "Mystery" letters, claiming that he has no supervision of the contributions.

DR. SALE TALKS BUSINESS.

Rev. Dr. Sale, the rabbi, charged with all these horrible things, was found in his study this morning, apparently as well as ever. Certainly his pugnacity was not diminished in the least, out, on the contrary, it seemed to have increased, for he proceeded to handle his opponents in a way that would restore John L. Sullivan's prestige if he could but apply the vigot to the prize ring.

13. "That I annoymously attempted to assassinate any one's reputation is false," he said. "The facts are simply these: When I was rabbi in chicago the branch of the Israelite in Chicago the reatend to place a Jewish boycott on a certain Chicago dre prodos house, owned by a Christian, because the proprietor was said not to have allowed his employes to leave work to attend certain Jewish feasts on busy days. It turned out that the proprietor never had done any such thing, but that itsn't to the point. I was then, with Dr. Hirsch and others, a contributor to the Chicago Occident.

AT THE REQUEST of a number of Chicago merchants. I wrote an editorial comment on the Israelite's threat, claiming that when Jews took a position in a Christian business house, they placed themselves under the rules of that house and should make no complaint.
I also called attention to the failure of Jewish employers to let their men off, and asked the Israelite to begin its box. I also called attention to the failure of Jowish employers to let their men off, and asked the Israelife to begin its boycotts at home. This article was in defense of my people, the Jews. I could not let them rest under the imputation, too often uttered, that we are clannish, and that when one Jew is hurt all the rest howl. I did this because I wanted to stop the spread of prejudice. This showing up of Dr. Wise caused all the attacks he has made on me since. My article was to stop the spread of prejudice. This showing up of Dr. Wise caused all the attacks he has made on me since. My article was not signed because it was in the nature of an editorial opinion, but I never hesitated about announcing my authorship. That is how cowardly my assault was. So far as Leo Wise is concerned everybody knows he is only a blatherskite."

"DOESN'T FAVOR ISECESSION.
"Is it true as charged that you have tried to get Shnare Emeth out of the Union?"
"I am surprised that any such charge can be made. Every one in my congregation knows that I have always opposed the congregation's going out. I have said all I could against it. There are some in the congregation who are very determined to go out but they will not say that I have not told them their plans were wrong. I have pointed out that because Dr. Wise in his paper attacks me is no reason why the congregation should with hold its support from a worthy charity. Were not the American Israelite blind with hatred it could never print such charges. Shnare Emeth wanted to stop the 'Mystery' letters, and threatened to withdraw for that purpose. I cannot say that the church really intended to go out. It wanted to stop the 'Mystery' letters, and threatened to withdraw for that purpose. I cannot say that the church really intended to go out. It wanted to stop that abusive correspondence."
CHARGES DR. SONNESCHEIN WITH THE AUTHOR—"Do you know who was the author of those letters?"

"Do you know who was the author of those "Do you know who was the author of those letters?"

"Most certainly. Dr. Sonneschein was. There is no doubt about it. I am as sure of it as that I sit here."

"But suppose Dr. Sonneschein denies that he has had anything to do with them?"

"Then we shall have to prove it on him, that's all, and we shall be able to do it, too. We can prove it by what Dr. Wise himself told Dr. Wolfenstein of Cleveland and by what Leo Wise told Dr. Hirsh. Why, what's the use of discussing that? Isn't it well known that Dr. Sonneschein begged Dr. Wise time and again to publish the letters? Don't we know all that?"

that Dr. Sonneschein begged Dr. wise time and again to publish the letters? Don't we know all that?"

"Has the correspondence ceased?"

"Dr. Wise has given out that no more of the letters shall be published, although he says this is contrary to the gagging of his correspondents. Gagging his correspondents, for sooth! How is it about his Pittsburg correspondent who last month after my lecture there said in his correspondence to Dr. Wise's paper something complimentary of me, and had all reference to me cut out of his letter, and his fellow Sonneschein all the time filling his letters with abuse."

DR. SONNESCHEIN'S DENIAL.

Rev. Dr. Sonneschein, rabbi of Temple Israel, was asked about the charge of being the author of the "Mystery" letters. He denied it emphatically, declaring that he had no idea who the author was. "Further, you can say for me," said the doctor vehemently. "that Dr. Sonneschein doesn't attack persons anonymously. When he wants to say anything against anybody he will not hesifate to says ounder his own signature, as he has the courage and the facts, the facts. Why are these charges made to disturb the relations of our church. My congregation and I are trying to do our work quietly and thoroughly and we do not want to bother with any other. Only a Sunday or so ago in my own pulpit I prayed for my old church, Shaare Emeth, and its rabbi. Could I do such a thing in my pulpit and then do what it is charged add in that correspondence."

this latest insult to their Rabbi, contained in the charge that Dr. Sale had worked for a secession of the church from the Union. "Nothing could be further from the truth," said Mr. Furth. "The opposite is true. Dr. Sale has not only never worked for secession but has worked against it. Repeatedly have I heard him declare himself against going out of the Union." ELECTION IN SHAARE EMETH.

These complications have arisen at a time when they will no houbt be brought before the congregation. Next Sunday afternoon the annual meeting of the congregation will be held. The present Board of Trustees will hold its last meeting tomorrow night, when the report of the special committee will probably come before it. The election of new officers will occur at Sunday's meeting. It is understood that there is a movement on foot to elect Frank Block President. These charges, however, have nothing to do with the complication over the union.

Telegraph to the POST-DISPATCH. ference of Methodist Episcopal Churches met Presbyterian Church, Bishop Walden presiding. The conference was opened with devotional exercises, led by Rev. T. H. Haggerty of St. Louis, and Rev. William Jones, Kansas City. The Bishop then read the 48th psalm and talked for half an hour on the teachings and talked for half an hour on the teachings of Christ as applicable to the work which was now before the Conference, and the appropriateness of commencing it in the spirit which recognizes Christ as the personal Savior. After singing the Bishop and presiding elders administered the sacrament, first to the members of the Conference and then to the general members of the church. Rev. William Stephens, Secretary of the last Conference, was re-elected. The following committees were appointed:

Auditing—Revs. D. W. Crow, B. F. Price, W. M. Creamer, J. M. Durham, J. B. Daniel, Bible Cause—Revs. W. L. Lewis, T. H. Knease, C. E. Keaton, H. T. Thereafall, L. S. Markham.

Lenig, A. P. Sallaway, J. W. Finley, A. L. Walker.
Freedman Aid—Revs. John Ashley, F. M. Stickney, T. C. Sparks, Cyrus Brough and James Pine.
Other less important committees were appointed on Memoirs, New York Book Accounts, Observance of the Sabath, Periodicais, Personal Finances, Publication of Minutes, Public Worship, Railroad Secretary, Stewards, Statistics, Sunday Schools and Tracts, Temperance, Women's Foreign Mission Societies, Woman's Home Mission Societies.
The reports of the Presiding Elders were read, showing the work of the church to be in a remarkable state of progress.

Nottelling how much gas they flave, nor how long it will continue to flow, but the decline has led them to believe that some provision should be made against its utter loss. Notwithstanding this and the decline of other wells, the boring in St. Louis county will go on and the Ags of Steel says: "Members of the Hydraulic Press Brick Company, of this city, together with Chicago and Findlay applicatists, will erect brick works at Findlay, O., to cost in the neighborhood of a quarter of a million dollars. They will operate under the name of the Findlay Hydraulic Press Brick Company, with the main office in St. Louis, where $150,000 of the $250,000 capital stock is held. The officers will be E. C. Cincinnati and Cleveland."

THE USE OF GAS

In brick manufacture has been found to be of great advantage. By an improvement in the kins the waste heat is carried from the top of the kiln where the bricks are being burned into a kiln where there are green bricks, and there does the drying out necessary before the intense heat is applied for burning. At a recent convention of brick men one of the number said his company saved from 50 to 65 per cent on fuel by this process and got better brick.

cent on fuel by this process and got better brick.

Beside the Westinghouse process another process for the manufacture of fuel gas is being talked about to local manufacturers. It is owned by Burdette Loomis of Hartford, Connic and the surface of the sum on the has interested E. O. Simmons in a proposition to establish a plant in St. Louis, but he steps have as yet been taken. By this process from 40,000 to 45,000 cubic feet of gas can be produced from a ton of bituminous coal at a cost governed by the cost of slack coal. In Iron manufacture many advantages are claimed for this fuel. Mr. Loomis has recently made a contract with Matthew Addy to put ten or twelve generators in the great pipe works being built at Addyson, thirteen miles west of Clucinnati. Gas is to be used in every part of these works.

Messrs. Blackmer & Post have had their interest exolted in the Wapington gas process, which is now being practically applied in Peoria. A party of St. Louis gentlemen intend to go to Peoria to see the process.

A Strong Market-Stocks Sold and Prices

While the number of stocks dealt in was not arge, to-day's trading was decidedly heavy and prices showed an upward tendency, although there were no phenomenal alterations ing price was 464, at which more than 2,000 shares changed hands. One thousand brought 47½, and an equal number of shares 48%, the market closing with sales aggregating 600 shares at 50. The weekly report, which was received to-day, states that the atrize in the second level is looking better than ever. The vein is now 2½ feet in width, and the stopes in the second level are assaying higher than ever before. The amount of amalgam taken from the plates is at least 35 per cent in excess of the product per ton before the recent improvements in machinery were made.

. . . . Rens was in very active demand, opening at 15, at which which $,000 shares were sold, 1,800 brought 16th, and 2,500 1745, at which the stock closed.

West Granite opened at 484, 1,500 shares changing hands at this price, 2,000 sold at 474, the stock closing with sales aggregating 1,000 shares at 484, which was freely bid.

Golden Era was held strongly and but little was sold. Bidding began at $1.07½, rising to $1.08½ and $1.10, but no sales were made until $1.12½ was reached, when 500 shares changed hands. The closing quotations were $1.12½ bid, $1.15 asked. Two carloads of ore have been shipped to the Omaha smelters assaying $107 to the ton.

Silver Age exhibited unusual activity. Open-ing at 25, it quickly rose to 27%, more than 2,000 shares ceiling at this price, 500 brought 25% and 100 30, the closing price.

SOME QUEER FACTS AND FIGURES ABOUT THE VARIOUS POPULAR BRANDS.

How Fashion Dictates the Various Style Used in Different Localities—The Delu-sion About Genuine Turkish—Other er Mistakes-How a Brand is Built Up and How It May Be Ruined.

John B. Meyer, an agent for a large tobac house of New York, while in conversation with a Post-Dispatch reporter to-day said: The tobacco business, simple as it may seem to the uninitiated, requires very careful watching, and is as changeful in fashion as a New York miliner. It would be a curious study to follow the history of certain brands of tobacco, to trace their rise and fall in popuar esteem. No one who has used manufactured eo can have failed to remark the alteraions of the brands put upon the market. Particular varieties that were found in every store day, while a new brand is made and exten rely advertised and sold every month. Many people ascribe these changes to mere caprice but they are nothing of the kind. A new commands a considerable initial irrespective of its merits, after a short trial the public form an opinion, generally a very just one, as to its quality, and within two months after it which greeted every selection, and in many to its quality, and within two months after it is put on the market it is assured either of success or failure. The disappearance of a once popular brand is not caused by a capricious change in fashion, but is founded on excellent grounds. Sometimes a kind closely resembling an old favorite, but somewhat better in quality, appears and drives its predecessor from the field, but the most common reason is a deterioration in the quality of the original tobacco. It seems strange, but scarcely afirm in the county seems to appreciate the fact that a reputation must be sustained as well as acquired. When a new brand is placed on the market it is always carefully manufactured, the best leaves are chosen, everyiprocess carefully watched and the consequence is that an admirable article is turned out. Should the venture meet with success, this standard is kept up for a year or two, and immense profits are made. But the almost invariable history of all popular brands is that after a certain time, seldom longer than three years, the manufacturers become either carelessor avarielous, and their goods gradually drop off in quality. I might interrupt myself at this point to say that I now refer especially to smoking and chewing tobaccos. The leaves are not so carefully selected, nor so well handled. Packages or plugs will be found to contain large unstripped leaves, the tobacco becomes courser, and the stems are not so rigidly excluded. The change is gradual, but in the course of a year or eighteen months becomes very always carefully manufactured, the best leaves are chosen, everyprocess carefully watched and the consequence is that an admirable article is turned out. Should the venture meet with success, this standard is kept up for a year or two, and immense profits are made. But the almost invariable history of all popular brands is that after a certain time, seldom longer than three years, the manufacturers become either careless or avaricious, and their goods gradually drop off in quality. I might interrupt myself at this point to say that I now refer especially to smoking and chewing tobbaccos. The leaves are not so carefully selected, nor so well handled. Packages or plugs will be found to contain large unstripped leaves, the tobacco becomes courser, and the stems are not so rigidity excluded. The change is gradual, but in the course of a year or eighteen months becomes very marked, the tobacco is less and less called for, and finally the trade ceases nearly entirely. When this happens the manufacturer may as well turn his attention to making some other brand, as never in the history of the business has it been possible to regain public favor when once it has been forfeited. The best thing that can be done is to manufacture a tobacco somewhat similar to the former favorite but to change the name. To attempt to revivity an old brand by renewed excelience in manipulation has again and again proved to be impossible. The market once lost can never be recovered, and inquiry will make this abundantly evident; every large retailer has his shelves or his cellar full of the old packages of tobacco which once were in great demand, but now are utterly unsalable.

STYLES AND THEIR CAUSES.

"Where a dealer has carefully to watch the pipes are nearly universally in use, at the more delicate varieties of the Virginia, or the Turkish would meet with certain failure. Strong, moist tobaccos are almost equality in disfavor and short cut, light tobaccos are also out of the question, or that the market is circumscribed within very narrow practically unsalable.

ABOUT QUALITY.

"From the great variety of tobaccos put on the market," Mr. Meyer went on to say, "it would naturally be supposed that the quality of the leaves grown was very various. This is by no means the case. A difference undoubtedly does exist, but it is not great, not nearly so great as that between the finest and the coarsest leaves of the same plant. The difference in flavor is nearly entirely due to manufacture, not to quality. The most delicate tobacco and the coarsest is made from material grown on the same plantation, the difference lying in the process and whether the inside or outside leaves are selected, the former being far the best. In closing I may state that those who smoke what they believe to be genuine Turkish are generally under a hallucination, as nine-tenths of the so-called native Turkish are generally under a hallucination, as nine-tenths of the so-called native Turkish is, when sold, a great deal further away from Virginia than it ever was before."

The Scott Recitals At the Pickwick-Cha

Notwithstanding the unpleasant weather the cosy Pickwick was nearly filled last evening or the Scott recitals. The audience was intelligent and sympathetic and before the fine selections had been given Mr. and Mrs. Scott had established that indefinable bond between the speaker and the hearer which is described as sympathy, by which the emotions of the one found an immediate response and reflection in the other.

one found an immediate response and reflection in the other.

No one ever sat for any lengtif of time under the influence of Mr. and Mrs. Scott without finding in their entertainment a distinct charm. As Dr. Snyder expressed it in his introductory remarks it lifts and dispels for a time the dark clouds which press about men and women and cleans from the mind the cares and vexations of life. There is something of importance in this. Anything which breaks the wearing grind of work and worry, adds not only happiness, but health to the general store. Mr. and Mrs. Scott do not accomplish this by arousing feverish excitement or by leading their hearers through a maze of crime and of false, artificial views of human life.

They deal rather in the milk of human kindness than in fiery stimulants of human deprayity and passion, and in the wholesome ozone of pure air rather than the maddening fumes of strong drugs, and so while there is elation there is no intoxication, and the aftertaste is sweet with kindled humor and awakened sympathies. It is wholesome, kindly, thoroughly enjoyable entertainment. That it was enjoyed by the enthusiastic applause which greeted every selection, and in many instances was only silenced by an additional recital.

The Emma Abbott Opera Company presented the "Mikado" to an excellent audience as the Olympic last evening in most acceptable style. The melodious and quaint opera was given a splendid musical treatment with Emma Abbott as Yum-Yum, Lizzie Annandale as Katisha, Miss Bertram as Pitti Sing, Montegriffo as Nanki-Poo, Broderick as Pooh-bah, Pruetta as the Mikado, and Waiter Allen as Koko. This afternoon "Martha" was given, and to-night "Lucretia Borgia" will be the opera, with Miss Abbott in the title role.

The French Grand Opera Company appeared in light opera last evening at Entertainment Hall, giving a most enjoyable rendering of "Boccacelo," with Mme. Raphaei-Genin in the title role, Mme. He Sets Forth His Reasons in an Affi Presented to Judge Seddon-Mrs. Van-slyck Prays for a Divorce-A Chapter of Grievances—Decisions by Judge Barelay To-Day—Cases on Trial and Verdicts Obtained in the Circuit Court.

At the motion hour in Judge Seddon's Court to-day Congressman John M. Giover's motion for an early setting of the Lancasser Glover libel suit was presented by Mason B. D. Lee. It is as follows:

John M. Glover, the defendant in the cas being duly sworn upon his oath, states that an application made by him some weeks prior to his time for a special setting of this case was tenied by the Court, upon the ground that the leadings were not at issue. Affiant states that the pleadings are now at issue and the cause so far as the pleadings are concerned s ready for trial. The case is one involving matters of general public interest, and is, is the affant's opinion, such as to require speedy trial and an early adjudication of the questions of fact involved.

The affiant further states that the public du ties involved in his official position require his presence at the national capital, and it is more evenient and desirable and more consistent with his proper performance of those duties that the case should be tried at a very early day and not at a later time during the session of Congress, and further the affiant saith not.

The Court stated that it was not usual to entertain applications for special setting, but the motion would be taken under advisement in this case.

A petition for divorce was presented to-day, and an order of publication obtained in the case of Mary A. Vanslyck against Charles A. Vanslyck. They were married on October 19, 1871, and Mrs. Vanslyck alleges October 19, 1871, and Mrs. Vansiyck alleges that in less than three months her husband commenced to subject her to various indignities; that he beat her, called her vile names and treated her generally in a cruel and barbanous manner, rendering her condition intolerable. She alleges that her life was endangered on more than one occasion, and that her husband rushed at her with a razor. Finally, on the 23d of January, 1872, she was compelled to leave him on account of the cruel treatment. Mrs. Vansiyck further alleges that her husband has since married another woman. She asks for a decree of divorce and the custody of the child. Her husband is not a resident of this State.

CARTING CŒESUSES. Cruckmen Who Have Accumulated Wealth -A Mysterious Person.

rom the Buffalo Courier.

There is scarcely a calling by the pursuit of which a man may not become opulent, if he only bends his energies to it. The business of carting or trucking does not appear lucrative on the face of it, and yet there are two or threee men here in Buffalo that have piled up fortunes of $25,000 to $80,000 at the humble occupation of moving the goods and chattels of cupation of moving the goods and chattels of monthly tenants from house to house about the city, principally on the east side.

Two of these wealthy cartmen have stands on Lafayette Square, between the Grosvenor and the Buffalo Library buildings. One of these answers to the name of Hill. He is well along in years and has been a cartman since the days before the war, and has managed to lay by about a thousand dollars a year over and above his family expenses. He is a man of simple tastes and frugal habits and never loses a chance to carn an honest dollar. Neither the frost of the winter, the heat of summer, nor the rain in autumn is ever known to drive him from his stand, and to these things he owes his accumulation of riches.

Pleasant Way to Dis. m the Texas Siftings. A Texas man was left $2,000 by the death of an uncle in New York. He drank deeply and an uncie in New York. He drank deeply and wens through the property in two months. While engaged in the completion of one of the railroads in Texas, he received notice that he had fallen heir this time to 35,000.

"Allow me to congratulate you," said one of his fellow-workmen.

"Congratulate nothing!" said the man, dismaily. "It looks very much as though there was some kind of a plot on foot to kill me off."

PREACHED IT TO'EM RAW

HOW FATHER DYER SERVED THE GOSPEL TO '59ERS IN COLORADO.

DENVER, COLO., March and scared 'em all l could. When it came time for meetin' I'd the men were gam-bling and I'd pull the quilt that always hung there for door, and I'd say, brisk like and kind as I could: 'Look here, men, can't you finish up your game in about twenty minutes and come over here to preachin? Some of 'em would come, aud some of 'em wouldn't. I have known 'em to stop in the middle of their game and then go back and finish it after I had launehed all the thunderboits at 'em that I could command. That was the way things was done in the mining camps in them days."

The wrinkled old man leaned far back in his comfortable chair and laughed, one of poor, haif-blind old eyes twitching and accompaniment. He had a face of parchiment, a shock of long gray hair, a pair of merry little twinkling eyes, despite their infirmity, and he was John Lewis Dyer, one of the original frontier circuit Methodist preachers. The people of Colorado, and particularly those of the Methodist Church, now grown to riches and popularity, know this rare old man as Father Dyer, a godly, old-fashioned preacher, who has had more adventures in his time than would fill many a bulky volume. For the past year or two he has been placed on the retired years of age and somewhat feeble.

FATHER DYER'S AUTOBIOGRAPHY.

The immediate prospect of the publication of his very entertaining autobiography by the Methodist Book Concern, however, brings him before the public again in the light of a delightful chapter of early western reminisences. Father Dyer is chatty and genial.
He cracks many a joke at his own expense during the course of conversation.
He has a keen appreciation of humor, and never spares himself in the least. I talked with him the other day in Chancellor Moore's pretty little oaken study at the Denver University, and soon discovered in him a happy was the biggest fellow in the lot, and if he hadn't thrown that bolsterous fellow down I would?

Father Dyer preached his first sermon in Denver on the night of July I, 1861. The Methodists had full sway here at that time, no other denomination having as yet established even a mission. The venerable Col. Chirington, who has long since passed into history as "the hero of Sand Creek," was the presiding eider, and there was a pastor here named Kenny. Father Dyer preached at the old Southern Hotel to a congregation of some twenty-five or thirty men and women.

The next week he went to Buckskin, a camp two and one-half miles above Alma. The Phillips Lode was the great excitement in those days, and thither Father Dyer went afoot to see what could be done for the souls of men, where whisky flowed like water and the betting often ran up into the thousands. As the Father pursued his way, having spent his last dollar in getting to Denver, he came upon a small pline grove, near Como, where some Indians were taving a war-dance. A pole ornamented with ghastly scalps formed the center piece of the assemblage, and as the preacher advanced he half funcied that his own locks would soon be added to the feative decorations, but the Indians did not molest him and he passed on unharmed.

After a time he met a wagon-train en route to Euckskin and succeeded in trading his watch to the manager for a passage to that camp, where he remained until September, walking almost incredible distances to the surrounding camps and preaching constantly. The miners proved good friends of "the old man," as they always called him. They did him all manner of inconsistent kindnesses, such as giving him a liberal collection one day and playing cards under the very sound of his presching the next. Sometimes they swore the most dreadful oaths in his presence, but at any time would they have divided their last cent with him or shared with him their scanty blankets.

The old preacher had a pair of useful hands,

Wheat was struck by a bear cyclone this morning, hay receiving the brunt of the blast that blew prices downward. Coming on the heels of yesterday's break were enough if depressing infinences to produce a bearish and weak feeling. The weather was not as cold as expected, and frightened no one. Numerous damage reports on the crop were in, but in one believed them. Cable news was unfavorable, the amount on passage, according to the two reports, decreased 160,000 but and increased over 700,000 but respectively, and every other market was tumbing. As stated above the attack of the bears wind concentrated almost entirely upon May and they hammered that option from filed down to filed in short order, knocking off eighths at a time. There is supposed to be several targe lines of May here's some of which markins, and they hammered that option from filed down was "granning." for. However, they were not brought out by the raid, and most of the selling was done by the bears themselves, who later sought to cover, and as other markets reacted there was a recovery to fily-filed filed. The close was somewhat easier at silk-filed filed. pears and Lizzie's as 17 years. Dr. Gully has been intimate with the latter quite awhile. She was employed on fouth Sixth street, and according to his story came to him for professional treatment. He alleges he then learned that her morals were not the best, and an intimacy sprang up between them. This lasted some time, until she got to bringing her younger sister around, when Lizzie was discarded for Leonora-Officers Carr. Daly and Heath yesterday arrested the doctor and the young girl, who was rooming at No. 23 South Seventh street. After the father had sworn to information for a warrant against Dr. Gully, he had his youngest daughter placed in the House of Good Shephard, and says he will also place the other girl there. Both girls had been working in restaurants and other places on South Sixth Street, and that neighborhood. They are coarse and unrefined in their ways, but their father blames Dr. Gully for the fail of both of them. He says that by his promises the prisoner accomplished their ruin, and alleges that he was keeping them away from their homes and paying the rent of their rooms. The father further alleges that the doctor was the cause of their becoming inmates of disreputable houses here.

Dr. Gully is an old resident of this city, although he can hardly be called a prominent physician, his practice being rather limited. He admits his intimacy with the igirls, but denice enticing them away from their homes. He says that while treating Lizzie, the older sister, professionally, he learned her character. She brought the younger girl, Leonora, around and he liked her and she liked him. The younger girl came to him a number of times for treatment, which ne always gave her free of charge. She persisted in visiting his office, although he ordered her to remain away. Her sister and brother were constantly complaining, and he told her he had nothing to do with sending them to discreputable houses and did not pay Leonora's room rent. A note found with the doctor from the younger sister confirms his statemen and Lizzie's as 17 years. Gully has been intimate with the

WORK AMONG THE CHILDREN.

Special Mission of the Golden Chain

Now Decided Upon. meeting of the Golden Chain on yes terday afternoon, at the residence of the Misses Anderson, 1728 Washington avenue, it was resolved that the special mission of the polety should be "work among the chil-ren." There will be no effort made to place an officer on the atteet, but assistance will be an officer on the street, but assistance will be given in every way possible to the parent Humane Society. Resolutions of regret on the death of Henry Bergh, draughted by Mrs. Todd, were adopted; also papers by Mrs. Gibbs and Miss Laura Anderson were read, and the following address on "The Humane Education of Children" by Mrs. Brooks, Every thoughtful mind realizes the fact, that the practice of humanity toward the lower animals of creation, tends to the eleva-Every thoughtful mind realizes that the practice of humanity toward the lower animals of creation, tends to the clevation of human character. The advancement of civilization is measured by the 'regard men have for the helpless,' and it is impossible to overrate the benefit of humans instruction upon the rising generation. The sible to overrate the benefits of humane in-struction upon the rising generation. The best "object lessons" for the teachings of mercy, justice and courage, are the little dumb animals about us, who suffer all the "fills of the fiesh" without the power of pro-teating against their wrongs. "ills of the flesh" without the power of pro-testing against their wrongs.

These object lessons can be leastly learned before the mind is able to grasp the simplest problem in the "catechism." Every home and school in the land should have this motte hung upon its wails: "Smail Cruelties are First Steps Toward Crime." Parents and teachers should remember always that the best way to insure good character for our "future citizens" is to inculcate principles of humanity towerd creatures more helpless than themselves.

ARRANGEMENTS COMPLETE FOR THE SPRING CHAMPIONSHIP SERIES.

President Von der Ahe Says the Series Will Be for "Blood" and the Title-The Big Roll of St. Louis Players-Fresh Arrivals-The Notes-Base Ball Gossip.

ern Association of base in the earlier part of ed. The schedule was arranged in a pretty satisfactory manner

Ahe and Manager Loftus arrived in the city this morning well pleased with the results. While in Chicago Mr. Von der Ahe discussed a proposition to play the Browns against the at St. Louis or Chicago. The games will be played about the middle of the month of April, or in that neighborhood. Speaking of the prospective games with Detroit for the championship of the world, Mr. Von der Ahe

"These games with Detroit will be for blood and will be played strictly on their merits. The result will decide the championship of the world just as much as did the games with Detroit last fall. If we win these games, and we will try our best to win them, we will win we lost last October, and we will bill our selves as the champions during the approach-ing season. The schedule of the games has been arefully prepared, and the Detroit managenent and ourselves will sign regular article of agreement in which will be stipulated that the winners will hold the championship sub-lect to challenge as heretofore. To my mind these games will be just as important as any that we have thus far played for the world's litle."

that we have thus far played for the world's sitle."

The schedule for the spring with Detroit, as originally printed in the POST-DISPATCH some weeks ago, has been changed somewhat. The new schedule, as recently adopted, is as follows: April 1 and 2, at New Orleans; April 5, at Memphis; April 13 and 14, at St. Louis. Umpire Gaffney has been secured by Detroit to officiate in all their practice and exhibition games this spring and may probably be secured to do the work in the championship series. However, the question of umpiring has not been regularly settled as yet. President Von der Ahe favore either McQuade or Gaffney and the matter will be settled later on.

Coming In Fast. Since the Eastern avalanche of snow has given way to locomotion, the players of the Browns and St. Louis Whites who hall from the East have been arriving. Ed Knouff, one the East have been arriving. Ed Knouff, one of the Browns' pitchers, Bart Canty, of last year's Newark Club, who is to catch for the St. Louis Whites, Jake Kenyon, of last year's Champion Topekas, who will officiate with Boyle and Milligan with the Browns, arrived. Thos. McCarthy, the Browns great little right fielder, came in last night from Boston. Milligan, the coal-oil inspector of last year's Athletics is expected here this week, and by the time they are all here President Von der Ahe will be kept busy looking after his thirty and two charges. In fact, the Browns' presidential ruler will have a busy time of it this season in mustering his men for daily roll cail. There are more players in town now than have ever been known to be here, ready to begin operations for the season of 1888.

The Pastime Club.

At a special meeting recently of the Pastime Athletic Club the membership limit was raised. The following were elected to active embership. Geo. E. Miller, J. C. Goode, membership. Geo. E. Miller, J. C. Goode, M. Whelan, D. T. Lasar, A. J. Curney, Rich W. Shapleigh and C. W. Gun; honorary, A. Moll, S. D. Culbertson, Ben Miller, C. L. Peck, John W. Loader, J. C. Ragsdale, Julius Winklemeyer, J. C. Cobes, J. B. Carroll, Stewart W. Hamilton, Joe A. Murphy, J. Fay and Lewis A. Clarke. A resolution was passed asking the Municipal Assembly to favorably consider Park Commissioner Klemm's bill for increased police protection to the parks, especially Forest Park. The boys will be out Sunday morning at Forest Park for the parks, especially Forest Park. The boys will be out Sunday morning at Forest Park for practice. Milwaukee Rabbits to oppose them.

Leitner, the pitcher who was with the Indianapolis team for a short time last season, will pitch for the Bergen Point Athletic Club nine this season.

President Spalding has had nothing new from John Clarkson of late. He dislikes to let him go, and told him to name his own figures. Clarkson said it was not a matter of figures at all, but that personal reasons prevented him from ever playing with the Chicago Club. The result will very likely be that Clarkson will be seen no more on the ball field.—[Inter-Occane]

The dozen or more professional organizations which will enter the base ball arena this season will furnish employment to from 1,500 to 2,000 players. In addition to the two leading bodies—the National League and American Association—there is the International Association, Central League, New England League, Western League, Western Association, Northwestern League, California League, Southern League, Trass League, Central Internate League, Tri-State League and Pennsylvania Central League.

The Athletics have certainly a much stong.

The Athletics have certainly a much stronger team than last season, and there is every indication that they will prove important factors in the championship struggle. The new material of the team is showing up unexpectedly well, and Bobby Matthews says he never saw so many promising young pitchers on one team in his long experience. In estchers, too, the Athletics are well provided for, and the strong infield and outfield that will be made up from Larkin, Bierbauer, Gleason, Lyons, Sullivan, Stovey, Welch and Poorman will certainly have no superior in the Association ranks. Manager Sharsig is very enthusiastic, and is also sanguine that his team will capture a good place, but he will not book his men as "pennant winners" just yet. Manager Sharsig's first ambition is to win a majority of the series from the Philadelphia Ciub, and he says he is confident that his boys will do it.—[Philadelphia Times.] The Athletics have certainly a much strong and he says he is confident that his boys will do it.—[Philadelphia Times.]

The following is the card furnished the press by Manager Watkins of Detroit in order to induce "Deacon" White to sign. Of course Watkins does not mean what he says: "The refusal of Mr. White to continue his relations with the Detroit team and his reasons therefore for seem to justify me in speaking in a general way of the matter and with perfect friendless to him. Some of the statements made in the public press alleged by him to have been instigated by me I never authorized. Others I have said thoughtiessly but with no malicious intent toward White. They were made on the spur of the moment and without consideration of the consequences or of the effect the remarks would have upon his feelings. After having White's statements from himself am convinced that he is honest in his belief. Realizing now that I have undoubtedly wounded his personal feeling by public expressions, I take occasion to repair the damage as far as possible."

Manager McGunnigie of Brookiyn will arrive Wednesday, and Dave Foutz. Bobby Caruthers, "Dec" Bushong and Billy Holbert are also expected. The other members of the team will be ordered to report at once, and they will all be given practice in a gymnasium or hand-ball court. President Byrne is making arrangements for needed improvements at Washington Park. He will have two new covered stands built below the free stands, and will also have additional exits made on Fourth avenue and Fitth street. He said to-day: "I know the people will appreciate my efforts to make the grounds comfortable for them and will patrenize the club in a liberal manner. I think the team plays good ball. We have gone to a great expense this year, and I think have secured a team that will win the championship. If we do, then you will see the biggest kind of a blow-out in Brooklyn. I think that the prizes offered the members of the champion team will make the boys work harder than ever before, and I know that if my boys are not unfortunate and work well together, they will win those prizes and the pennant, too."—[New York paper.

The result of the recent meeting of Sullivan and Mitchell in France has brought up again the old question of how many years a puglilist can continue to fight in the ring without any deterioration of his muscular powers. The devotees of the squared circle have always found this a fruitful subject for debate, and while some of them say that there is practically no limit to a fighting man's life while he is under 40 years of age others place the limit at ten or even a less number of years. It is a well autheticated fact that specialists in any branch of athletics lose their muscular powers early in the majority of cases, but this is probably due to dissipation rather than any long-continued training.—(New York Herald. ong-continued training .- [New York Heral

There was a lively time in the House yesterday when the Labor Committee's report came up for discussion. WHY NOT

For a man to persist in burdening himself with a heavy overcoat at this season is an indication of something wrong, either with his mental or financial organization. Spring may be fickle, but it is better that we humor her caprices by honoring her approach with garments of welcome rather than to repel her advances by stubbornly holding on to our winter wraps as if to say, We acknowledge no spring.

A Light-Weight Overcoat is the first of vernal garments-the arbitrator between snow and sunshine.

At Humphrey's expect to find the best, most tasty, the highest examples of tailoring art in Spring Overgarments.

Shoddy has met its Nemesis in the fine All-Wool Cheviot Trouserings that we are making to measure for $5 a pair.
